

iUniverse—Discovering Tomorrow's Authors Today

Brooklyn Suite
Michael Angrosino
978-0-595-43124-3
Price $13.95

Set in the 1950s, a working-class Italian neighborhood in Brooklyn, N.Y., is captured on the verge of the great dispersion to the middle-class suburbs. Imaginatively re-created characters make their way through the joys, sorrows and confusions of everyday life in a community that was soon to vanish.

Journey to Freedom and Beyond
Robert M. Slane
978-0-595-37458-8
Price $21.95

A true story that reads like an adventure novel! 20-year-old Robert Slane, a B-17 pilot during World War II, is shot down on October 14, 1943. His imprisonment, forced marches and escapes while a Prisoner of War provides a memorable story of determination, courage and faith.

Small Miracles
A. C. "Pete" Peters
978-0-595-43520-3
Price $9.95

Miracles happen. This account of a man's return to faith describes how he became an atheist after his brother died in an automobile crash, but struggled with emptiness until a series of amazing miracles brought him back to Jesus. A must read for anyone with doubts.

Bring Me the Brain of Nikola Tesla
Sal Restivo
978-0-595-40607-4
Price $14.95

Mary comes back into Tony Conti's life after a long absence. He hunts for her husband's killers and missing papers of the famous electrical engineer, Nikola Tesla. The author interweaves linear narrative with dreams, memories and diary entries, as well as a mesmerizing excerpt from Tony's personal journals.

'Shroom!'
Richard S. Greene
978-0-595-45865-3
Price $24.95

This is the tale of a nine-foot-tall talking mushroom that gives Arnold Miracle something special called Allpowers. This leads to a twisted, time-traveling hilarious adventure featuring Marilyn Monroe, Charlie Chaplin, Frank Sinatra, JFK, Laurel and Hardy, John Lennon and God.

The Internet Financing Illusion
Vincent Panettiere
978-0-595-38567-6
Price $29.95

This guidebook explores one businessman's personal journey through the perplexing, often dark world of cyberspace, profiling the faceless financial scam artists who lurk behind keyboards and computer screens. A powerful and cautionary tale, the book delivers firsthand information and invaluable guidance to keep you scam proof in cyberspace.

I Know How Hard You Work
Paul Sybert
978-0-595-46079-3
Price $13.95

Paul Sybert's book relates his inspiring journey from a debilitating stroke to his remarkable return to health. Through a mixture of instruction and support, Sybert shares each step of the healing process to help stroke survivors learn to cope.

White Sun Chronicle
Gene Shiles
978-0-595-46191-2
Price $16.95

Earth's civilization faces disaster of its own making. Senator Neil Silvers and a handful of others are cast into a world where people compete with each other – and their own personal demons – as never before. They confront their darkest fears and find the true meaning of fellowship and survival. www.booksaboutthefuture.com

Asylum
Arthur J. Robinson
978-0-595-34485-7
Price $10.95

A young mother commits suicide in a 19th century asylum after her child is taken away from her. Generations later, her descendant comes to Britain to investigate her family. Her quest takes place and is acted out by people who work and use the public library in the old asylum building.

The Sex Ed Chronicles
Stuart Nachbar
978-0-595-41994-4
Price $16.95

Set in central New Jersey in the 1980s, this novel recounts a young journalist's brave efforts to defend a teacher targeted for termination by a conservative parent's organization within the emotionally charged arenas of sex education and student free press rights in the public schools.

Return of the Blood Drippers: A Feng Shui Story
K. T. Fung
978-0-595-47626-8
Price $14.95

CIA agent Peter Cushing investigates the mysterious deaths of a world-renowned Chinese Feng-Shui master and several religious leaders. As the events unfold, Cushing is brought into a world of building-leaping, dagger-throwing Blood Drippers and the intriguing practices of Feng-Shui, in efforts to save the world.

Tatianna - Tales and Teachings of My Feline Friend
Linda A. Mohr
978-0-595-42677-5
Price $23.95

This candid and insightful memoir gives a glimpse into the daily relationship and eternal bond between one woman and her feline friend. The work beautifully shows how the power of love between humans and animals can truly create miracles. A must-read for animal lovers. www.lindamohr.net

At the Mercy of Externals: Righting Wrongs and Protecting Kids
David L. Roberts, Ph. D.
978-0-595-29394-0
Price $18.95

Dealing with adult roles and responsibilities, Dr. Roberts presents tried and true theories relative to children and complicating factors, including poverty. This book serves as a very effective parenting guide and a reliable basis for professionals working with high-risk, troubled kids and young adults.

Looking for Jencey, The Life of Lizzie Elnora Murphy Casebolt
Dorothy Diemer Hendry
978-0-595-41044-6
Price $29.95

This historical novel encompasses the life and times of the author's grandmother, a strong compassionate woman who lived through the post-Civil War era, Women's Suffrage, the Great Depression and two world wars. Murphy Casebolt met each challenge, whether in business, romance or tragedy, with wisdom and fortitude.

A Nomad's Journey
Atilla Bektore
978-0-595-38524-9
Price $33.95

An incredible tale of Atilla Bektore's life in the Soviet Union, Turkey and his current home in the United States, this book shares the story of his father Shevkj, a teacher who spent 22 years in Stalin's labor camps and exile in Siberia.

Psyche-Soul-ology: An Inspirational Approach to Appreciating and Understanding Troubled Kids
David L. Roberts, Ph. D.
978-0-595-45907-0
Price $17.95

A companion to At the Mercy of Externals, this book is an inspirational approach to appreciating and understanding troubled kids. The application of Dr. David L. Roberts' theories allows people to work more effectively with kids, and look beyond their behaviors, in order to achieve more positive therapeutic outcomes.

Beyond the Forests of Yesteryears
Sharon A. Dumas
978-0-595-43234-9
Price $10.95

Each allegory addresses our essential needs and longings and explores a number of life experiences from the desire of acceptance to the regrets of unfulfilled dreams. The characters spring to life and tackle universal anxieties and fears, as well as finding strength, courage and hope.

Misha the Desert
Kent Hamilton Nuñez
978-0-595-47808-8
Price $11.95

On the summer solstice, a group of unlikely friends enter a world that grants them extraordinary abilities, yet a hunger for absolute power tests their friendship. The search for answers to the mystery of what brought them together will bring them face-to-face with the being known as Misha.

The Other Side of Silence
James Willis
978-0-595-44067-2
Price $15.95

Prof. James Willis, award-winning author of a critically acclaimed Civil War history book, goes back to the Civil War in this novel. Willis' book vividly portrays Billy Butler, a Rebel soldier from the Arkansas frontier, who becomes disillusioned with war and his quest for glory. iUniverse Publisher's Choice Award recipient.

Battle Songs: A Story of the Korean War in Four Movements
Paul G. Zolbrod
978-0-595-41423-9
Price $15.95

Four young men from the coal fields in western Pennsylvania are drafted to fight in Korea in the early 1950s, taking with them an enduring legacy of conflict and violence. In describing a now vanished world, this gripping novel looks to the past for meaning in today's wars.

Burnished Pebbles, Poems of Love, Death, and Life
Dorothy Diemer Hendry
978-0-595-43826-6
Price $9.95

Dorothy Diemer Hendry's poetry is beautiful, illuminating, diverse, sometimes humorous, sometimes protesting and always wise. Readers will find themselves returning to these poems many times in this short collection by a gifted poet, wife, mother, grandmother and teacher of our

Your Spiritual Growth Handbook: A Five Week Program for Personal Renewal
Barbara A. Derrick, Ph. D.
978-0-595-20287-4
Price $14.95

This self-help workbook is written by a minister/therapist using modern psychological insights and Christian thought to help the reader identify problems. The self-paced exercises reveal a paradox which uncovers a solution lying within the problem. Strengths pave the way to spiritual, emotional and psychological wholeness.

La Rincorsa
Stephen T. Savage
978-0-595-33903-1
Price $21.95

It's 1985, and Detective Martin Gilmore is investigating the murder of Frederick Lang, a man wrongly accused of being a war criminal. As events unfold, Gilmore's mysterious experiences in the Vietnam War begin to haunt him. This provocative, award-winning debut novel is by Stephen T. Savage. www.larincorsa.com

Chewy Moon
Paige Shelton
978-0-595-44431-1
Price $9.95

Take a spellbinding trip with Josie and Sanana in Chewy Moon, as the two young girls find out that no matter where you come from or what you've been through, the power of friendship can conquer even your worst fears—and that people are not always what they seem.

Shoot Not to Kill
Daniel L. Stephenson
978-0-595-40323-3
Price $16.95

What moron would shoot his patients? Dr. Stanley Morris Bishell would. A flunking thoracic surgery resident, Bishell takes the situation into his own hands. Follow the complex pattern of fraud and manipulation in the practice of credentialing a physician in this macabre story.

To order call 1-800-AUTHORS or visit www.iuniverse.com