

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONTACT:

Linda A. Mohr

Phone: 561-845-1985

E-mail: lindamohr7@bellsouth.net

www.lindamohr.net

New Book Gives Hope and Inspiration to Animal Lovers

West Palm Beach Author Tells Touching Tale of Feline Friend's Battle with Kidney Disease

West Palm Beach, FL, December 1, 2007—A new book by first-time West Palm Beach author Linda A. Mohr chronicles her fifteen-year relationship with Tatianna, a brilliant grey cat with sparkling blue eyes who developed feline kidney disease. Tatianna—Tales and Teachings of My Feline Friend—follows their shared lives from the time Mohr is presented with an adorable bundle of fluff to the day she has to tell her beloved pet farewell. The book describes in clear and touching detail all the unforgettable moments that so enrich the lives of those who have been blessed to share their homes with animal companions.

When Tatianna was near death, Mohr never lost hope. Instead, she and her beloved pet embarked on a journey of hope and healing. “I am so glad to be sharing Tatianna’s story with animal lovers everywhere—particularly those with cats who have kidney disease,” Mohr says. “It is my deepest wish to inspire hope and show that with a combination of love, faith and the proper treatment, miracles can indeed happen.”

Another message that readers of Tatianna—Tales and Teachings of My Feline Friend take away is that the love we feel for our animal companions—and even our relationships with them—live on well after they have crossed over the “rainbow bridge.” “I still feel Tatianna’s presence around me,” Mohr says. “Her spirit spurred me on to write and publish our book. I have sensed her on my bed and walking on my creaky hardwood floors, and I feel her guiding and protecting me when I am on trips.”

Mohr is a marketing and management professor at Northwood University in West Palm Beach. Over her 20 years at the university she has received the Outstanding Faculty Award five times and was honored in Who's Who Among America's Teachers in 2002 and 2003. Mohr formerly owned Pet Apothecary, a one-stop shopping source for medical, boarding, supply and grooming services. While running the business, she often witnessed how an owner’s love and devotion can help a precious animal overcome seemingly insurmountable medical odds. This knowledge later helped her persevere through Tatianna’s treatment and inspired her to share Tatianna’s story with other pet owners.

To arrange an interview with Linda A. Mohr, please call 561-845-1985. For more information on Mohr and Tatianna—Tales and Teachings of My Feline Friend, please visit www.lindamohr.net